TINY TALES OF THE TURP

By Walter H. Pearce

Many stories are told about Col. Phil Chan, Kentucky breeder but the latest is a "dip." It seems that Chan, who is reported to own a cool million in horseflesh, ran into "Patty" Anderson the other day out at Saratoga and accosted him with this remark:

"Say, Pat, how about having a little cash on account."

"Isn't that funny?" responded Anderson. "I was just looking for you to borrow a couple of hundred."

Down in Juarez in 1912 Chan was in debt to Jay Hammer, a bookmaker, to the extent of $200,000. Times were tough and that much money looked like a million dollars, especially if you were trying to borrow it.

"If you don't hand me that money by 5 o'clock tonight," said Jay,

"I'll have to keep your head in a box."

Chan turned around and handed Hammer the $200,000.

"Did you get that money?" asked Jay.

"Here it is," replied Chan, handing him the money.

"Sure thing," replied Chan.

"And I looked it to him," said Jay.

"You added, 'Some day they will find you just like I did.'"

MORE THAN $10,000,000 IN SWEETSTAKE PRIZES

London, England, Millionaires were made in the sweepstakes moments through a world-wide net work of sweepstakes which all depended on the outcome of the Derby.

The famous Calcutta Sweepstakes alone was worth $4,000,000 to the holders of the lucky tickets which cost about $100 each.

Altogether, more than $10,000,000 in sweepstakes were won on the Derby. The British Exchange in London sponsored a $100,000 sweepstakes. The London Stock Exchange had a $250,000 sweepstakes. The Liverpool Cattle Exchange had a $250,000 sweepstakes. Many other similar sweepstakes were operated privately by large city business firms.

Some of those who drew horses disposed of a portion of their dividend for ready cash before the race, thus insuring a profit.

H. C. Reeves, an insurance agent who drew $100,000 in the Calcutta sweepstakes, sold his ticket before the race for $105,000. Although he failed to win, the syndicate which purchased the ticket from Reeves will almost double the money invested as the horse placed third.

Finally he called Frank Patterson into conference, telling him he was in a bit of trouble and requested that he get busy and did it up some late.

Promptly at 5 o'clock, Patterson drove up to the Hotel Pax and North, Patterson was in conference with the syndicate called him aside and said:

"Did you get that money?"

"Here it is," replied Patterson. And Chan turned around and handed Hammer the $200,000.

"Did you get that money?" asked Jay.

"Here it is," replied Chan, handing him the money.

"Sure thing," replied Chan.

"And I looked it to him," said Jay.

"You added, 'Some day they will find you just like I did.'"

"TIL COMPROMISE WITH YOU," SAID

Medley. "Just wait around every day and I'll give you a 'buck' each for one hundred days - one bone at a time."

"And don't you know," added the girl, "the last time we was at my word. And I paid off as I had promised."

Here is a corker on the "Washing Kid," who is now out at Stirling ton Park. Out in Montana a number of years ago he rushed up to Senator Clark, late Copper King, and gave him the cash for $100.

"I'll pay this back next Friday," said "The Kid," And he did.

A week later he went to Senator Clark and requested the loan of ten dollars.

"Nothing doing," replied Clark. "I gave you a hundred the other day and never thought I would get it back. So I'm taking no more chances."

ACCUSE E. SANDE WITH FOUL IN DERBY RACE

Cellinville, Ill. That Earl Sande was up to his old tricks of rough riding, charged by Jockey H. Schulte, contra rider for the Audley Park Stable, Schulte claims that Sande tried to put him over the fence during the running of the Kentucky derby.

SHORT WAY FROM CONTENT TO HOSTILITY

The following article which appeared recently was published and while it may appear rather extreme it is well worthy of attention. It is correct or nearly correct what is the matter with the church?

The theory that telephones, radios and motor cars have had something to do with the question. It is so then what is the cause? Surely the old slogan applies—There's a reason, What is it?

The Family Herald goes on to say "Years ago, before telephones, radios and motor cars had anything to do with the church, it was the custom of those who were within reasonable distance of a church to attend at least one service every Sunday."

This habit was not something of which they boasted. It did not divide the community into two classes of the church-goers and the absentees—the sheep from the goats—as it tended to do in the case of the church-goers of Europe. It was a universal custom practiced as a matter of course as part of the prime duty of men and women.

In some families indeed there was family worship daily when the head of the household called the members and the hired help, for a short reading of the scriptures and the offering of prayer.

In thousands of homes family prayers are today practically a thing of the past. They disappeared with the war and the new "slant" on life and living which came with it.

Now the habit of church-going seems also to be falling into abeyance.

It is true that the number of adherents to the different creeds shows no decrease, but the statistics are fallacious. They count in their memberships every man or woman who professes their faith and not merely those who practice them.

If the adherents of each church as set forth in the census were all regular church attendants, the church buildings would present a spectacle very different from that which they actually reveal Sunday after Sunday.

The coming of the motor car should have increased attendance at church since in scattered districts churches that were practically inaccessible by car had many families that could not drive forty and fifty miles to a community centre or to a church. They had to make the same journey on Sunday as they do on weekdays.

The church was the centre of community life. It brought men and women of varying social standings of different occupations and of diverse ages, it drew them by the magnet of a common ideal.

NEVER MAKE ENEMIES FOR ANY POLITICIAN

The Provincial Election Campaign will close on Wednesday and the elections will be held on Thursday. The burden of carrying on the Government business will devolve on the Opposition. The candidates of all parties may well be proud of themselves for the high place in which their campaign has been conducted.

Only in one or two cases throughout the whole province have personalities been introduced, simply because a man became a candidate willing to serve the public in no reason why his opponents should immediately endeavor to prove that he should not only not be elected, but that it would be done he should be in jail or possibly worse.

People differ in their views upon many questions and it is their privilege to differ, but that is no reason why people should become antagonistic to each other with regard to that difference of opinion.

If the electors could sit and watch a public representative jobbing with each other after elections they never would make personal enemy for any man or other.

Furthermore, the candidates themselves do not wish their fellow electors to make enemies. Keep cool and do not allow your enthusiasm to run away with your good judgment, and mark your ballot for the one whom you think will serve you and your country to the best advantage.

It is not that the people are less honest or less kind or less virtuous than they were. The discipline of early training is too strong. It is a great danger that with the rearing of men and women from the disciplinary duty of the church going there will grow up a looseness of conduct, a shirking of moral fibre, a distorted view of the first things.

Rationalism of church-going and it's discipline is the first step to waste neglect and contempt of religion. It is a short way from contempt to open hostility.

Russia has shown the effect of Bolshevism. It has destroyed and despoiled the churches. Then they wiped them out of its life of Russia and finally they persecuted those who still stuck to them. It was not open persecution but the far more effective and subtle method of putting ridicule and derision on sacred things.

No wonder the action of the Great Government among Christians all over the world to protest! Yet the very procedure which the Bolshevists adopt compelling the peasants to obey their rules is the same which thousands of men and women are voluntarily following in Canada.

Such men and women would laugh at the idea of persecuting the church or of bringing ridicule and contempt. Yet by their example, by their attitude and by the fact that they are ashamed of their faith, they are doing just as directly work for the overthrow of Christianity as Bolshevism has done.

ONE PERSON IN TEN GOVT. OFFICIAL

The Vulcan Advocate says that there must be a general "cleaning up" of careless expenditure in order to cope with present conditions. It is the opinion of those in a position to know most accurately, world affairs. This was the expressed opinion of a well-known experienced visitor in Vulcan this week. Having recently returned from an extensive tour, he said that financial leaders are all realizing that a drastic reorganization must take place. In the hazy scale of living, in order that a pre-arranged balance may be restored. Confronted with the top, the government's financial position and provincial should be put off all excess. The multiplicity of government officials in this kind of small population is appalling. It is estimated that one person out of every ten in Canada is a government official, which in itself constitutes a terrible waste of revenue. New budgets to meet the conditions of financial depression are necessary, from federal affairs down through provincial and municipal governments. The habit of extravagance developed in recent prosperous years will have to be eradicated. The future. The speaker to instance how far we have travelled, he said that the habit of extravagance, revealed in a own boyhood on a farm in Eastern Canada, where the total cash proceeds from the farm amounted for year to about $500 per year. Yet a family of eight was brought up in that farm, clothed and fed, and mortgage paid off. Non-voting people would spend about $500 just in gasoline for the year. It is just one indication of the serious extravagance of the present age. The recent period of inflated values must necessarily be followed by a period of economy, unless conditions will be stored.

In Great Britain there is grave realization of the difficulties of the future. Farmers can see little hope under present conditions. They are brought in from Germany, to be sold for 20 cents a ton and similar regulations prevent the whole country from being able to produce. Over all, looms the shadow of famine with its inexhaustible possibilities in grain raising and agriculture.

Only a policy of retrogression will save the world from more serious depression, than now exists.

and women are voluntarily following in Canada. Such men and women would laugh at the idea of persecuting the church or of bringing ridicule and contempt. Yet by their example, by their attitude and by the fact that they are ashamed of their faith, they are doing just as directly work for the overthrow of Christianity as Bolshevism has done.

NAMAKA

James Thomson accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Hilda and his grandmother, Mrs. Thomson of Minneden, Nebraska, arrived by car on Friday of last week and will spend their vacation at the home of their parents.

Miss Ruth Atkins arrived Tuesday from Beach, N. D. where she has been attending school and will spend her vacation at the home of her parents. We are sorry to know Leonard Atkins is still suffering with his foot, supposedly the result of Frost-bites. We wish him a speedy and complete recovery.

Some of the crops in this District have been badly blown by the recent winds. The early wheat is standing up well but needs plenty of rain to insure crop.

Jack Brenner left Monday for Oklahoma where he has accepted employment with the Canadian National Railway.

Mr. Gordon and Mr. Eaton of Delta visited with Mr. and Mrs. Deane Sunday leaving for High River in the evening.

The Junior ball team is busy practicing and hopes would be able to challenge a game with some of the neighboring teams.

Mrs. Halden took ill on Sunday morning suffering from her stomach. We hope to soon see her around again.

Mayor Brown has left town and will be absent a couple of months.

How About Paying YOUR STANDARD Subscription To-day

"Thrift is a most commendable trait. The practice of knowing what one gets for one's money—and getting it."

Can you think of anything that gives you more value for your money than this?

Notice that friends of yours, or friends of your friends are visiting; have visitors; are ill; have been bereaved; have rebuilt or remodelled their home; bought a new home; are officers in a society; have been blessed with a new baby; that they have had an accident, or become married. In fact, the intimate activities of the community family life are reflected in the pages of your local news paper 52 weeks in every year.

Besides, you read of your Municipal Council's activities; of the progress or retrogression of your district, and literally hundreds of other items.

The business people send you each week messages of savings, latest styles, patterns, and weaves in wearables, and tasty economical food stuffs. You can stay indoors for weeks and still be better informed of vital community affairs than many who are continually about and trust to hearsay for news through your local paper.

Do you honestly believe that you get a bigger or better two dollars worth any where? If you agree with us that you do not, will you try to make our task of keeping our subscription list paid up, easier, by watching the label on your Standard and paying YOURS when it falls due? Thank you. Just to be sure—turn to the first page now and

Provincial General Election

Thursday, June 19, 1930
NOTICE TO VOTERS

THE VOTER MUST NOT:
 (a) Use the X mark.
 (b) Place more than one choice in the white space containing the name of any candidate.
 (c) Make the same choice for more than one candidate.
 (d) Make any mark on the ballot not authorized by these directions

THE VOTER SHALL:
 Go into the booth and with the pencil provided place the figure one (1) within the white space containing the name of the candidate who is his first choice. He may place the figure two (2) within the white space containing the name of the candidate he would prefer if the candidate who is his first choice cannot be elected with it. He may then place the figure three (3) within the white space containing the name of the candidate he would prefer if neither his first nor his second choice can be elected with it, and so on, making as many choices as there are candidates.

The voter may plump for one candidate alone, using the figure one (1), without spoiling his ballot, but is urged to vote the full extent of his choices, as it is only by marking the full number of choices that the voter obtains the full benefit of the ballot.
